SHUT OFF FROM THE SUN

morrow Night.

In Interesting Description of the

The moon will be in eclipse tomorrow night. The obscuration will be total at Washington and will be observable through-Washington and will be observable through-out North and South America, western Asia, Africa and will involve a vast range of the Pacific ocean. Lunar eclipses are more general than solar eclipses, and oc-cur when the earth, coming between the moon and the sun, intercepts the light and throws a shadow on the moon. This can happen only at the time of full moon, for it is then only that the moon is in epposi-tion. The moon must also, at the time of obscuration, be in the same plane as the shadow of the earth, which means the plane of the ecliptic in which the latter
